To launch the new edition of ALMANACH MAGAZINE, we invite you to a bookstore for an aperitif.

ALMANACH publishes texts by young researchers covering contemporary and historical topics across the Middle East, North Africa, and Europe.

After presenting ALMANACH, we celebrate the occasion with a storytelling performance by the artist Yara Bou Nassar:

On Finding Stability in Quicksand that Looks Like Glitter

Yara is a performer and theatre maker from Beirut interested in inspecting identity with respect to collective memory. She focuses on the deconstruction of social stereotypes and daily behaviour in the urban context as well as in the private and intimate spaces. She tells stories dissecting manifestations of discomfort in the body in different forms. She is an ensemble member at Theater Neumarkt in Zurich since 2020.
